Making music, singing and dancing are individual aspects of musical performance, which as a field of movement and action is embedded in ritualised and staged contexts of cycles in a culturally specific way. Rituals present their own space, their own time and their own perception. As rituals, such music-related events represent cultic, sacral or profane forms of expression which -- in repeated and recurring sequences -- symbolically hand down social and aesthetic values and norms as well as aspects of the world views on which they are based. The aim of the module is to show the diversity of musical-ritual group behaviour, to demonstrate functional multidimensionality in an exemplary way and to learn to understand it in its cultural and intercultural context. In particular, the different and overlapping levels of understanding and functions of music, dance and singing in cultural, intercultural and globalised contexts will be observed, analysed and interpreted in terms of their multiple coding.
Intended learning outcomes
The student understands how to exemplify the relationship of music and ritual in its multidimensionality. He/she has a differentiated knowledge of the functions of music, dance and song in a cultural, intercultural and globalised context.
