

Module description

ching offers for professional qualification. Based on specific cultural events, university or non-university practical projects are encouraged, supervised and evaluated. The practical application of specific academic working methods is practised as well as basic skills in the management of cultural and music mediation projects.  Intended learning outcomes  The student has a reflected self-awareness as a practically active musicologist and has gained an insight into possible vocational* fields as an example. He/she is familiar with, for example, functional text types and forms of presentation and is able to follow and participate in cultural and cultural-political discussions. He/she is able to participate in the planning, realisation and evaluation of cultural projects.  Courses (type, number of weekly contact hours, language — if other than German)  S (no information on SWS (weekly contact hours) and course language available)	Module title Abbreviation
holder of the Professorship of Contemporary Music  ECTS Method of grading Only after succ. compl. of module(s)  numerical grade  puration Squaduate  nessure  graduate  numerical grade  numerica	Scientific Culture- and Media Practice / Research Internship A 04-MW-WPA-112-mo1
ECTS Method of grading Only after succ. compl. of module(s)  numerical grade	Module coordinator				Module offered by
Duration Module level Other prerequisites  1 semester graduate  Contest  In this module, the social function of Musicology is studied. The possible occupational activities of musicologists and their cultural and educational policy context are taken into account. The focus is on the exchange wit representatives of other subjects relevant to the occupation, networking with cultural institutions as well as corching offers for professional qualification. Based on specific cultural events, university or non-university practical projects are encouraged, supervised and evaluated. The practical application of specific cadedmic working methods is practised as well as basic skills in the management of cultural and music mediation projects.  Intended learning outcomes  The student has a reflected self-awareness as a practically active musicologist and has gained an insight into possible vocational* fields as an example. He/she is familiar with, for example, functional text types and forms of presentation and is able to follow and participate in cultural and cultural-political discussions. He/she is able to participate in the planning, realisation and evaluation of cultural projects.  Courses (type, number of weekly contact hours, language — if other than German)  S (no information on SWS (weekly contact hours) and course language available)  Method of assessment (type, scope, language — if other than German, examination offered — if not every semester, information on whether module is creditable for bonus)  term paper (approx. 20 pages)  Allocation of places	holder of the Professorship of Contemporary Music			oorary Music	Institute for Musical Research
Duration   Module level   Other prerequisites   1 semester   graduate    Contents   In this module, the social function of Musicology is studied. The possible occupational activities of musicologists and their cultural and educational policy context are taken into account. The focus is on the exchange with representatives of other subjects relevant to the occupation, networking with cultural institutions as well as co-ching offers for professional qualification. Based on specific cultural events, university or non-university practical projects are encouraged, supervised and evaluated. The practical application of specific cadedmic working methods is practised as well as basic skills in the management of cultural and music mediation projects.  Intended learning outcomes  The student has a reflected self-awareness as a practically active musicologist and has gained an insight into possible vocational* fields as an example. He/she is familiar with, for example, functional text types and forms of presentation and is able to follow and participate in cultural and cultural-political discussions. He/she is able to participate in the planning, realisation and evaluation of cultural projects.  Courses (type, number of weekly contact hours), language—if other than German)  S (no information on SWS (weekly contact hours) and course language available)  Method of assessment (type, scope, language—if other than German, examination offered—if not every semester, information on whether module is creditable for bonus)  Hoditional information  Workload   Teaching cycle   Referred to in LPO I (examination regulations for teaching degree programmes)   Module appears in  Master's degree (2 majors) Musicology (2011)  Master's degree (2 majors) Musicology (2013)	ECTS	S Method of grading Only after succ. compl. of module(s)
In this module, the social function of Musicology is studied. The possible occupational activities of musicologists and their cultural and educational policy context are taken into account. The focus is on the exchange with representatives of other subjects relevant to the occupation, networking with cultural institutions as well as coching offers for professional qualification. Based on specific cultural events, university or non-university practical projects are encouraged, supervised and evaluated. The practical application of specific academic working methods is practised as well as basic skills in the management of cultural and music mediation projects.  Intended learning outcomes  The student has a reflected self-awareness as a practically active musicologist and has gained an insight into possible vocational* fields as an example. He/she is familiar with, for example, functional text types and forms of presentation and is able to follow and participate in cultural and cultural-political discussions. He/she is abl to participate in the planning, realisation and evaluation of cultural projects.  Courses (type, number of weekly contact hours, language — if other than German)  S (no information on SWS (weekly contact hours, language — if other than German)  S (no information on SWS (weekly contact hours) and course language available)  Method of assessment (type, scope, language — if other than German, examination offered — if not every semester, information on whether module is creditable for bonus)  term paper (approx. 20 pages)  Allocation of places	5 numerical grade
Contents  In this module, the social function of Musicology is studied. The possible occupational activities of musicologists and their cultural and educational policy context are taken into account. The focus is on the exchange with representatives of other subjects relevant to the occupation, networking with cultural institutions as well as corching offers for professional qualification. Based on specific cultural events, university or non-university practical projects are encouraged, supervised and evaluated. The practical application of specific academic working methods is practised as well as basic skills in the management of cultural and music mediation projects.  Intended learning outcomes  The student has a reflected self-awareness as a practically active musicologist and has gained an insight into possible vocational* fields as an example. He/she is familiar with, for example, functional text types and forms of presentation and is able to follow and participate in cultural and cultural-political discussions. He/she is able to participate in the planning, realisation and evaluation of cultural projects.  Courses (type, number of weekly contact hours, language — if other than German)  S (no information on SWS (weekly contact hours) and course language available)  Method of assessment (type, scope, language — if other than German, examination offered — if not every semester, information on whether module is creditable for bonus)  term paper (approx. 20 pages)  Allocation of places	,		Module level	Other prerequisites
In this module, the social function of Musicology is studied. The possible occupational activities of musicologists and their cultural and educational policy context are taken into account. The focus is on the exchange wit representatives of other subjects relevant to the occupation, networking with cultural institutions as well as co-ching offers for professional qualification. Based on specific cultural events, university or non-university practical projects are encouraged, supervised and evaluated. The practical application of specific academic working methods is practised as well as basic skills in the management of cultural and music mediation projects.  Intended learning outcomes  The student has a reflected self-awareness as a practically active musicologist and has gained an insight into possible vocational* fields as an example. He/she is familiar with, for example, functional text types and forms of presentation and is able to follow and participate in cultural and cultural-political discussions. He/she is able to participate in the planning, realisation and evaluation of cultural projects.  Courses (type, number of weekly contact hours, language — if other than German)  S (no information on SWS (weekly contact hours) and course language available)  Method of assessment (type, scope, language — if other than German, examination offered — if not every semester, information on whether module is creditable for bonus)  term paper (approx. 20 pages)  Allocation of places	1 semester		graduate
gists and their cultural and educational policy context are taken into account. The focus is on the exchange wit representatives of other subjects relevant to the occupation, networking with cultural institutions as well as co-ching offers for professional qualification. Based on specific cultural events, university or non-university practical projects are encouraged, supervised and evaluated. The practical application of specific academic working methods is practised as well as basic skills in the management of cultural and music mediation projects.  Intended learning outcomes  The student has a reflected self-awareness as a practically active musicologist and has gained an insight into possible vocational* fields as an example. He/she is familiar with, for example, functional text types and forms of presentation and is able to follow and participate in cultural and cultural-political discussions. He/she is abl to participate in the planning, realisation and evaluation of cultural projects.  Courses (type, number of weekly contact hours, language — if other than German)  S (no information on SWS (weekly contact hours) and course language available)  Method of assessment (type, scope, language — if other than German, examination offered — if not every semester, information on whether module is creditable for bonus)  term paper (approx. 20 pages)  Allocation of places	Contents
The student has a reflected self-awareness as a practically active musicologist and has gained an insight into possible vocational* fields as an example. He/she is familiar with, for example, functional text types and forms of presentation and is able to follow and participate in cultural and cultural-political discussions. He/she is abl to participate in the planning, realisation and evaluation of cultural projects.  Courses (type, number of weekly contact hours, language — if other than German)  S (no information on SWS (weekly contact hours) and course language available)  Method of assessment (type, scope, language — if other than German, examination offered — if not every semester, information on whether module is creditable for bonus)  term paper (approx. 20 pages)  Allocation of places   Additional information   Workload   Teaching cycle   Referred to in LPO I (examination regulations for teaching-degree programmes)   Module appears in  Master's degree (2 majors) Musicology (2011)  Master's degree (2 majors) Musicology (2013)	representatives of other subjects relevant to the occupation, networking with cultural institutions as well as coaching offers for professional qualification. Based on specific cultural events, university or non-university practical projects are encouraged, supervised and evaluated. The practical application of specific academic working possible vocational* fields as an example. He/she is familiar with, for example, functional text types and forms of presentation and is able to follow and participate in cultural and cultural-political discussions. He/she is abl to participate in the planning, realisation and evaluation of cultural projects.  Courses (type, number of weekly contact hours, language — if other than German)  S (no information on SWS (weekly contact hours) and course language available)  Method of assessment (type, scope, language — if other than German, examination offered — if not every semester, information on whether module is creditable for bonus)  term paper (approx. 20 pages)  Allocation of places   Additional information   Workload   Teaching cycle   Referred to in LPO I (examination regulations for teaching-degree programmes)   Module appears in  Master's degree (2 majors) Musicology (2011)  Master's degree (2 majors) Musicology (2013)	Intended learning outcomes
Method of assessment (type, scope, language — if other than German, examination offered — if not every semester, information on whether module is creditable for bonus)  term paper (approx. 20 pages)  Allocation of places   Additional information   Workload   Teaching cycle   Referred to in LPO I (examination regulations for teaching-degree programmes)   Module appears in  Master's degree (2 majors) Musicology (2011)  Master's degree (2 majors) Musicology (2013)	of presentation and is able to follow and participate in cultural and cultural-political discussions. He/she is able to participate in the planning, realisation and evaluation of cultural projects.  Courses (type, number of weekly contact hours, language — if other than German)
Allocation of places  Additional information Workload Teaching cycle Referred to in LPO I (examination regulations for teaching-degree programmes) Module appears in Master's degree (2 majors) Musicology (2011) Master's degree (2 majors) Musicology (2013)	Method of assessment (type, scope, language — if other than German, examination offered — if not every semester, information on whether
Additional information  Workload Teaching cycle Referred to in LPO I (examination regulations for teaching-degree programmes) Module appears in Master's degree (2 majors) Musicology (2011) Master's degree (2 majors) Musicology (2013)	term paper (approx. 20 pages)
Workload Teaching cycle Referred to in LPO I (examination regulations for teaching-degree programmes) Module appears in Master's degree (2 majors) Musicology (2011) Master's degree (2 majors) Musicology (2013)	Allocation of places
Workload Teaching cycle Referred to in LPO I (examination regulations for teaching-degree programmes) Module appears in Master's degree (2 majors) Musicology (2011) Master's degree (2 majors) Musicology (2013)
Teaching cycle Referred to in LPO I (examination regulations for teaching-degree programmes) Module appears in Master's degree (2 majors) Musicology (2011) Master's degree (2 majors) Musicology (2013)	Additional information
Teaching cycle Referred to in LPO I (examination regulations for teaching-degree programmes) Module appears in Master's degree (2 majors) Musicology (2011) Master's degree (2 majors) Musicology (2013)
Referred to in LPO I (examination regulations for teaching-degree programmes)  Module appears in  Master's degree (2 majors) Musicology (2011)  Master's degree (2 majors) Musicology (2013)	Workload
Referred to in LPO I (examination regulations for teaching-degree programmes)  Module appears in  Master's degree (2 majors) Musicology (2011)  Master's degree (2 majors) Musicology (2013)
Module appears in  Master's degree (2 majors) Musicology (2011)  Master's degree (2 majors) Musicology (2013)	Teaching cycle
Module appears in  Master's degree (2 majors) Musicology (2011)  Master's degree (2 majors) Musicology (2013)
Module appears in  Master's degree (2 majors) Musicology (2011)  Master's degree (2 majors) Musicology (2013)	Referred to in LPO I (examination regulations for teaching-degree programmes)
Master's degree (2 majors) Musicology (2011) Master's degree (2 majors) Musicology (2013)
Master's degree (2 majors) Musicology (2013)
	Master	r's degr	ee (2 majors) Musicology	(2013)

JMU Würzburg • generated 18.04.2025 • Module data record 115180